EIGHT LOSE LIVES WHEN STEAMER ALICE OF RODGERS SAND COMPANY IS BLOWN UP

CATASTROPHE OCCURS TODAY AT CORAOPOLIS; WELL KNOWN MEN NUMBERED AMONG THE VICTIMS

Capt. Harry Donaldson, of Rices Landing, Capt. Thomas Flaherty, of Pittsburg and Robert Davis Formerly of Charleroi Among the Lost --Five are Saved From Wreckage.

Eight lives are said to have been lost this morning between 6 and 7 o'clock when the tugboat Alice of the Rodgers Sand company blew up along the Ohio river near Coraopolis. Five of the crew were saved and were hurried to a Pittsburg hospital. This afternoon divers will engage on the work of locating the bodies. Among the known dead are:

Capt. Harry Donaldson, of Rices Landing. Has relatives living in Charleroi.

Capt. Thomas Flaherty, of Pittsburg.

Robert Davis, of Pittsburg, formerly of Charleroi, and a brother of William Davis of Charleroi and Mack Davis, of North Charleroi.

Causes of the explosion are not given. Word was received this morning at Lock No. 4 by Lockmaster George W. Paxton from the Rodgers Sand company telling the known details of the accident. The explosion came suddenly so that the crew had no chance of escape. Those who were sent to the hospital managed to get off in time to escape immediate death, but practically all of lives.

The remnants of the splintered Alice sank shortly after the explosion occurred. Now the river is as calm and as peaceful looking as though no grim tragedy had ever occurred at the point. It is told that when the explosion came the boat spread apart from the tremendous force and then plank by plank and timber by timber and splinter by splinter either sank or floated away. Somewhere concealed in the wreckage of the hull at the bottom of the river it is believed the bodies of the eight men will be found, and their names learned.

The Alice operated along the Monongahela and Ohio rivers. About a week ago it was up the Monongahela river and passed through Lock No. 4. It has long been in the trade, but it is not known that it had defective boilers. The point where this morning's explosion occurred was a comparatively short distance from the point where two years or so ago an explosion occurred on the tugboat Diamond, in which a few lost their lives.

NUMBER OF BALLOTS WILL BE CUT DOWN

Commissioners Find Out Surprising Things Through Experiment of Securing Registration Figures Early

In making computations previous to the letting of the contract for printing the ballots of Washington county for the primaries of September 16 the county commissioners Friday ascertained that 16,213 less tickets than they had advertised for would be necessary. This was learned through figures supplied by registry assessors in the county. Enrollment and registration surprises have resulted from the enforcement to the extent possible of the enrollment law. The contract for printing the ballots was awarded to the Times Publishing company of Monongahela, which prints the Monongahela Times and the Bentleyville Times. Their bid was $592.17. There were two other bidders, H. F. Ward of Washington, whose bid was $635.57, and the Roscoe Ledger of Roscoe, with a bid of $947.71.

Several days ago the county commissioners sent out requests to the registry assessors to get in figures of the registration as much as possible by the middle part of this week. Practically every registry assessor responded, with the result that the commissioners were enabled to form some idea of the number of ballots needed through another method than that. Tickets are to be printed as follows:

Republican, 9,394 official and 2,598 specimen.
Democratic, 8,000 official and 2,400 specimen.

Washington, 5,000 official and 1,500 specimen.

Prohibition, 674 official and 200 specimen.

Socialist, 2,500 official and 875 specimen.

There will be 46,068 official non-partisan ballots and 11,762 specimen. This matter of non-partisan ballots was made necessary by reason of the fact that every voter will get such a ballot in order to instruct for nominees for superior court judge. The law requires 1 1-2 times as many non-partisan ballots as there are all others.

According to the figures of the general election last fall, it would have been necessary to print 11,000 or more Washington party ballots. But the enrollment of parties over the county proves that this number of ballots will be nearly double the number needed. It is stated there have been heavy increases in the Republican ranks in the county and similarly light registration of Washington party men, which goes to indicate that the enrollment law has either been very generally misunderstood or not exactly lived up to.

There will be no ballots printed on the Bull Moose and the Roosevelt Progressive tickets and this will effect a saving in work for the printers. The ballots must be delivered at noon September 11 to the county commissioners at Washington.

BRIGADE MEMBERS RETURN

Washington Avenue
Youthful Soldiers
Back From Camp

CAMPED TWO WEEKS

Bronzed from their out-of-door experiences the members of the Washington Avenue Boys' Brigade under Capt. Charles Wallgren returned Friday night from a pleasant two weeks' outing at Conneaut Lake. At Conneaut the brigade was located in an excellent camp, and governed by rigid military discipline learned anew the rudiments of soldiering. Last year they camped at Conneaut for the first time.

Each day's program was much the same, consisting largely of numerous drills and maneuvers. There was plenty of spare time however for swimming and boating and these sports were enjoyed by the members of the brigade to the utmost. There were about 40 in camp all told.

Very early in the history of Charleroi the Hussey Binns Shovel Co., erected a model shovel factory along the town's river front between 3d. and 5th, Sts.

Employing practically all skilled workmen, this industry at once took rank as one of the leading industries of Charleroi. Among the many good workmen who came with the Hussey Binns Co. was one who had been in their employ for twenty three years, and had by careful attention to his work, together with unusual intelligent methods in performing his duties, become one of their most trusted employees.

This workman at once purchased a lot on Prospect avenue, and on it he

Final Preparations Are Made for Gathering of Teachers

WILL REGISTER MONDAY

Teachers to Report to Superintendents in Towns Where They Teach

Final preparations have been made for the Tri-District Teachers' Institute that will be held next week at the Methodist Episcopal church on Sixth street, Charleroi. The opening session will take place at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. During this afternoon Dr. F. C. Stahlman, of the board of directors of Charleroi will make the address of welcome and Prof. Edgar Reed, superintendent of the Donora schools will make the response. Dr. H. C. Curtis, of Oliver, Mich., former secretary of the playgrounds association of America and the Child Welfare conference and supervisor of the Washington, D. C. playgrounds will speak on "The School as a Social Center." Also on Monday afternoon Mrs. Alice M. Carmalt of the University will speak.

Officers of the institute association are: Prof. Thomas L. Pollock, of Charleroi, president; Prof. R. G. Dean, of Monongahela, secretary and Prof. Edgar Reed, of Donora, treasurer. Teachers are to register at their respective towns at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Charleroi teachers will report to the Ninth street building, and arrangements have been made by the Monongahela and Donora authorities to have their teachers report at special buildings. Miss Romala Anderson, secretary for Prof. Pollock will have charge of the local registration of teachers.

Every day will be a feature day at the institute. There will be morning and afternoon sessions from Monday until Friday, but there will be only one evening session, Thursday evening, when Dr. S. D. Fess of Ohio, will lecture on "The Humanity of Lincoln."

The finest kind of instructors have been secured for the institute. These instructors are: Dr. Henry T. Colestock, of the department of history of the Bucknell University; Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the Pennsylvania State board of education; Dr. Henry S. Curtis, playgrounds expert, of Michigan; Hon. S. D. Fess, member of the house of representatives from the sixth district of Ohio; Miss Ada Van Stone Harris, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Mary G. Noss, vice principal of the State Normal school at California, and Mrs. Alice M. Carmalt, of the University of Pittsburgh.

Prof. I. T. Daniel, supervisor of music in the Charleroi schools will be the musical director for the institute. Miss May Barth will be the pianist. Vocal soloists will be Prof. C. A. Dobson, of the department of music of the California Normal; Miss Ethel Hawthorne of California, and Miss Ethel Barth, of Charleroi. Instrumental soloist will be Miss Norma Bosson, violinist.

TEACHERS ARE INSTRUCTED IN READING SYSTEM

This morning Miss Kestler, of the Calhoun schools, of Philadelphia was at Charleroi and gave a special brief course in primary reading to about 25 of the Charleroi school teachers. This year a new system of reading is to be put into effect in the schools, and the instruction by Miss Kestler was to give the teachers pointers on the work.

P. R. R. TRYING WIRELESS SYSTEM

The Pennsylvania has been conducting experiments with a wireless telephone system to be used on trains. The first tests have already been made on the Huntingdon and Broad-top line and the freight and coal cars of this system are being equipped with the new wireless system.

It is said the new device will be a great aid in the prevention of accidents. The communication is between engineer and conductor. Although the apparatus is practically wireless a metallic circuit is used, the track and car couplers making the circuit.

JOHN H MAURER AND T. L. LEWIS AT ELDORA PARK

Tom Lewis, ex-president of the United Mine Workers of America and John Hudson Maurer, president of the state federation of labor are today the chief speakers at a gathering of miners and Socialists at Eldora park. There are between 2,000 and 5,000 people at the park this afternoon.

MONONGAHELA PEOPLE TO MEET FOSTER TODAY

The members of the sewer and highways committee, of New Eagle borough, received a letter Friday morning from the state highway commissioners stating that their chief engineer S. D. Foster would meet with them Saturday morning, August 30, at 2117 Farmers National Bank Building, Pittsburg. An attempt will be made to have the members of the Automobile club and a number of business men of Monongahela to meet with Mr. Foster and discuss the improvement of the road near the River-view power house.

POLITICS IN MT. PLEASANT MUCH MIXED

The Republican voters of Mt. Pleasant township will face a perplexing situation when they go to the polls Tuesday, September 16. Not a single name of a candidate will appear on the ballot for any of the township offices. It will be necessary for the voters to write in the names of the persons for whom they desire to vote.

Tuesday, the last day for filing petitions a bundle of about 45 was received from Mt. Pleasant township, but in looking them over the commissioners discovered that not a single petition was regular and all had to be thrown out. It appears that a suggestion meeting was held to suggest names for the various offices of the township.

Names were suggested and petitions were fixed out but not an affidavit was made to any of the petitions while they were found to be irregular in other ways. The 45 petitions were returned to the man who sent them in and as a result the Republican voters will have to write in the names of the persons they desire for the various offices.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD OUTING AT KENNYWOOD

Between 500 and 600 people attended the sixth annual outing of Monongahela Valley Odd Fellows held at Kennywood park Friday. The attendance was from all along the valley between Roscoe and Elizabeth.

A special train arranged by the Monongahela I. O. O. F. Picnic Association, carried the crowd to the park, reaching there at about 9:30. During the entire day after that the park amusements were called into requisition and the visitors enjoyed themselves to the limit. In the afternoon a number of athletic events were contested and prizes awarded to the winners of the various events.

The officers at the head of the committee on arrangements were William H. Isaac, president; Joseph Robinson, vice president; and Robert Craig, the latter, of Charleroi, secretary-treasurer.

WOES THAT KILL

Another resident of this state has committed suicide because his son murdered his wife and was hanged relates the Beaver Daily Times.

Seems reason enough for suicide, doesn't it—if there is any such thing as reason for suicide?

No more cruel and crushing calamity can come to any man than his son turning out to be a murderer and being hanged.

There is deepest shame in it as well as the keenest sorrow the heart can know. It is the most irremediable of all woes. One may live to make amends for his own crimes or sins, but none—not even a broken-hearted father—can ever make amends for a murderer that has been hanged.

But the peculiar thing about this,
as a cause of suicide, is its great rarity. Murders are common, far too common. Heart-searing suffering because of them is common. Yet there can be recalled very few instances of victims of this greatest of human calamities resorting to suicide.

Indeed, it is seldom we hear of victims of any really great calamities seeking relief in suicide. It is strange how, under the really great sorrows, we bear up. Strange how these actually give us new strength, not only to bear, but to overcome.

It is the little worries, the petty woes, that break us down.

We hear of suicide every day, every hour almost, because of temporary financial trouble, or lovers' quarrels, or trivial disappointment, or little ailment. But of self-destruction, or the breaking of the spirit, in the face of really great calamities there are very few instances either in the daily news or in history.

Men and women innumerable have borne the greatest of affliction not only with serenity, but with increased strength and sweetness.

It is of the hopelessly crippled that the world can learn cheerfulness.

It is of the hopelessly crippled that look for patience.

The human spirit, like steel, will bear enormous pressure and strain, but it may soon be weakened and broken by the rust of little worries.

DISH-SLINGING AND DIVORCE

Heaving dishes, clothesbrushes and other articles of common household use at the supposedly innocent head of her long-suffering spouse seems to have been little more than pastime to a certain Washington county woman, if the affidavit of the much pained husband is to be believed. Also if the same source of information is to be considered authoritative, this female of the species was not averse to the intemperate use of strong apple jack. On such occasions she endeavored to mutilate his countenance and infringe upon his personal liberty.

But the worm has turned. Now the male has sued for divorce alleging cruel and barbarous treatment. He interposes objections to the dish-slinging proceeding, quite naturally enough, it is argued. His wife's answer to the numerous specific charges is awaited with eager interest. One is tempted to wonder if she will accuse him of twisting her ears or of pinching her nose or of borrowing bedslats from the bed in the guest chamber with which to harass her.

It must be a case of incompatibility of temperament. In such cases the actual value—if it can be spoken of in such terms—of the divorce court shows up. If husband and wife cannot live together any more peacefully than these two seem to have been living together, it is not just as well that they be separated through due process of law.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Two boys who managed to be rather unruly in school so exasperated their teacher that she requested them to remain after hours and write their names 1,000 times. They plunged into the task.

Some fifteen minutes later one of them grew uneasy and began watching his companion in disgrace. Suddenly the first one burst out with a shout between his sobs and said to the teacher:

"Taint fair, ma'am! His name's Buch and mine's Schmittermeyer."

A little girl from that pretty quarter of Liverpool verging on Bootle was invited to a garden party given by a very aristocratic lady to a group of little slum children at Calderstone's park, according to an exchange.

The little girl, as she drank her tea, and ate her plum cake on a velvet lawn under a white blooming cherry tree, said to her hostess:

"Does your husband drink?"

"Why-er-no, not to excess," was the astonished reply.

"How much does he make?"

"He doesn't work," said the lady.

"He is a capitalist."

"You keep out of debt I hope?"

"Of course, child, what on earth—"

"Your color looks natural. I trust you don't paint?"

"Look here," exclaimed the hostess,
"what do you mean by all those impudent questions?"

"Impudent?" said the little girl.
"Why, ma'am, my mother told me to be sure and behave like a lady, and when ladies call at our rooms, they always question mother like that."

"LEST WE FORGET"

erected a home for himself and estimable family. Thus in 1891 Robert Whitehead one of our best citizens, became a resident of Charleroi.

His good judgment, and superior executive ability, was immediately recognized by the citizens of the town, and in 1893 he was elected to be a member of the board of School directors, for a three year term.

During those early days when the town was in process of formation, hard, confusing, and decisive work was required of the borough officials.
Robert Whitehead's ability and willingness, as a good citizen, to perform those trying duties was needed at that time, and so faithfully did he acquit himself of the task, that at the expiration of his term of office, the people insisted that he be elected for another term.

Mr. Whitehead felt that he had done his part, and objected to serving any longer, but the people insisted strongly on his service, so he was again elected for a (3) year term, which he filled with honor and credit to himself and to the town. During these (6) years that Robert Whitehead served the town so faithfully as school director, the foundations were laid for our splendid schools, and today we are enjoying the benefits of that early work, so well done.

Again the demand of the people came for him to serve another term.
This time he refused absolutely to be a candidate, for he felt that his personal affairs, his home, and his family, required more of his time. One year later the call came again, and this time no refusal would be accepted, so again he became a Republican Candidate. The Democrats endorsed his nomination and at the general election he received all the votes cast but three. This practically unanimous election of a man, who had served six years as a borough officer, shows conclusively the caliber of the man. Nothing but unexceptional ability, with a character absolutely beyond reproach, could produce such a remarkable result. For three years more Robert Whitehead served his town, faithfully, honestly, and efficiently and was again reelected for three years more, making in all (12) years of service, the only reward of which was the knowledge of a public duty well fulfilled.

In 1909 he was elected from a large field of aspirants to be the Republican candidate for Burgess and was defeated at general election. This year he is a candidate for Burgess and his many friends, remembering his record of thirty-seven years as trusted employee of the Hursey Binn-Co., his twelve years of service to this borough without remuneration, his splendid ability, energy, and high sense of duty, feel that the voters of Charleroi will emphatically say, that having proven his worth, Robert Whitehead shall be our next Burgess.

Stop That Leakage

Benjamin Franklin says, "Beware of little expenses; a small leak will sink a ship."

If you will stop the all-dangerous leakage in your household transactions (the nickels and dimes that go for useless luxuries) and start a savings account with this bank, you'll soon find your domestic ship on the high sea of prosperity.

I only requires a dollar to get started in the right way—and then by adding a small portion of your salary each pay day, you will be surprised at the results.

THE MAN IN DOUBT

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1935, by Associated Literary Press.

As I traveled a mountain road of West Virginia I came upon a squatter seated on a log in front of his pole cabin, and after we had given each other good day he asked:

"Bound for the camp meetin' at Cedar Grove, stranger?"

"I hadn't heard there was one there,"
I replied.

"Yes, and it's a whooper. Powerful lot of prayin' and singin' over thar."

"Aren't you interested in it?"

"I ar' and I ain't. I sorter want to go, and then I sorter think I hadn't better. Thar's the way with the old woman too."

"You think there may be trouble there?"

"Oh, no."

"Too busy with your work?"

"No, stranger. The Lawd order be at that camp meetin', hadn't he?"

"I should say so."

"And he order gin us a fair deal if the old woman and me went over?"

"Yes."

"But what I'm afraid of is that he won't."

I looked at him and wondered what he meant, and after a minute he went on:

"Sit down and be to home, and I'll tell you a bit of a story. It happened yars ago. Y' see, me and the old woman had I in bin havin' chills and faver, shakin' like scared rabbits one day and a-burnin' up the next, and I was almost too weak to lift an ax when a feller named Abe Brockford set out to humiliate me. He wasn't doin' any braggin' as long as I was able to be about, but when he heard how poorly I was he squared off in front of the cabin one night and shouted:

"Hello thar, inside! Am I makin' a mistake in supposin' this to be the residence of Bill Hope?"

"Yo' ain't," says I as I crawls to the door in my weakness.

"Come out like a man and squar' off at me," says he.

"I told him I'd been freezin' and burnin' and couldn't fight a rabbit, but that only made him vuss."

"Bill Hope, if yo've got any mercy in yo' heart come out yere and dance around while I pulverize yo' bones!"

"It hurt me mighty bad to be talked to that way," said the old man, "but I was helpless about it. At I could do was to shut the door and fling myself on the bed and cuss and weep.
The old woman tried to console me, but the feller kept his mouth goin' till I was purty high crazy. By and by I says to her:

"Do yo' reckon that if I prayed to the Lawd for strength my prayer would be answered?"

"That's accordin'," she answers.
"What do yo' want the strength fur?"

"To go out and smash Abe Brock-ford."

"Then yo' won't git it. The Lawd ain't mixin' up in sich rows."

"But he might if yo' prayed too?"

"But I shan't do it. When the critter out thar gets tired of talkin' he'll go home."

"I lay quiet for half an hour, but Abe didn't go, and when the old woman sees how bad I was feelin' she says:

"Bill, I'm willin' to try a sort of experiment. It ain't right to bother the Lawd with our troubles, and prayers and fightin' don't go together, but under the circumstances I'll do what I kin."

"All of a sudden I begun to feel stronger, and by the time the old woman had finished I told her that I was all right to go out an' drive Abe into the airth."

"Better not go," she says as she looks troubled.

"Why not?"

"Bekase I'm not snub about it. I prayed hard 'nuff, but I haven't got the feelin' that yo' are gwine out to whop anybody. Sorter feels to me that yo'll git the worst of it."

"It was mighty cur'us about my gittin' strong," mused Bill, "and to this day I can't make it out. Perhaps it was all owing to my madness. The old woman hung on fur me not to go, but I put her aside and rushed out. It was a darkish night, but I saw Abe standin' a few feet away and sailed for him. I was gwine to whop him blind in two minits, but I hadn't counted on startin' things. Fustly, the critter had got tired and gone home, and, secondly, a powerful big bar had taken his place. I knowed it as I grabbed his fur, but it was then too late. He jest hauled off with his right paw and fetched me a swat on the side of the head that put me out of it, and it was daylight befo' I come to and found myself on the bed."

"What's happened?" I asked of the old woman.

"Experimentin'," she answers.

"As how?"

"Prayin' to the Lawd to back yo' to wallop Abe Brockford. Abe slipped out and a bar slipped in, and as nigh as I kin make out Providence didn't stand by yo' fur shucks."

"And that's the reason you are in doubt about going to the camp meeting, is it?" I asked as he finished his story.

"It ar', stranger."

"But I don't exactly see the point."

"Plain as mud, sah. I'd go thar to fight Satan, wouldn't I?"

"In a way, yes."

"And s'pose the Lawd would slip him out on me and slip a half dozen wildcats in on me to take his place!"

NOT WISE TO LEAVE MONEY LYING AROUND SAYS YOUR UNCLE SAM

Picking up loose money has grown to be such a hardship for the overworked rural free delivery carrier that the Post-office Department in Washington, D. C., has warned reckless citizens against leaving any loose coins lying around. Hereafter coins must be tied in bundles or inclosed in envelopes whenever the patron of a rural route wants stamps from a carrier and leaves the amount in the box.

The attention of postmasters at the rural delivery offices and of rural carriers is again directed to the fact that rural carriers are not required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes. Patrons should inclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in paper or deposit them in a coin holding receptacle so they can easily and quickly be taken from boxes.

HUNTERS' LICENSES ARE ABOUT READY

Application blanks, cards, and other papers necessary for the enforcement of the new hunters' license act were sent Friday from the office of the state game commission to the treasurers of each of the 67 counties of the state and Secretary Kaffus stated that the first shipment would give each county about 1,000 cards.

The enforcement of the act will begin very soon. It has been held back by printing, and it is the intention of the commission to give time to all hunters to make applications and become familiar with the law.

Under the arrangement each county will have a serial number, Adams beginning with No. 1 and York with No. 67. Dr. Kaffus today called attention to the fact that the cost will be $1 for licenses secured directly of county treasurers and $1.15 for those secured through justices of the peace.
Descriptions of applicants must be made on the blanks.

MUST WATCH FOR COUNTERFEIT

Capt. Charles W. Schroeder, in charge of the local United States secret service operatives, has received notice from Washington, D. C., of a new issue of a $20 gold counterfeit certificate and he is sending out to the banks and business houses some information regarding the new counterfeit bill.

The following describes the bill:
Series 1906, check letter "C," plate number 132, W. G. Vernon, register of the Treasury, Lee McClung, treasurer of the United States. The counterfeit is printed from photo-mechanical plates on two pieces of paper between which silk threads have been distributed.

SECOND LADY ASPIRES TO SCHOOL DIRECTORSHIP

Not to be outdone by the Socialist party, the Republican party will have a lady candidate for school director. Miss Lelia M. Wylie, daughter of R. D. Wylie, has filed her petition and her name will appear on the Republican ballot for that office in South Strabane township. Miss Wylie is a Seminary graduate. In addition to herself R. J. Henry and William H. Holmes are candidates with two to be nominated.

REV. BURSON TO PREACH SUNDAY AT UNION SERVICES

Rev. John R. Burson, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church will be the speaker Sunday evening at union services to be conducted by five churches at Christ Lutheran church. He announces that his subject will be "Christianity's Victorious Banner." The services will begin at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by union young people's meeting at the same church.

To Exchange Speakers.

Mrs. Alex. Tweedle of London and Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, were at a luncheon in Chicago last week and agreed that it would be good for both countries if an exchange of speakers could be made.
The taking of the first step was left to the Chicago Women's club at the suggestion of Mrs. Pennybacker.

Two Strenuous Lives.

Clovis Hughes, the French journalist, poet and duelist, filled his fifty-five years of life with sufficient excitement to make him worthy of special mention. One of his claims to distinction was that he had engaged in a French duel which resulted fatally—for the other man. He was a tempestuous radical and was once suspended from the chamber of deputies for insulting remarks to the president, which did not at all curb him. He wrote a number of novels, poems and plays in which he sought to spread socialistic propaganda, and he wrote a pretentious five act drama, a verse called "Le Sommeil de Danton" ("The Sleep of Danton"), which was produced at the Opera Comique. His wife contributed her share of excitement by killing a public official in the prime of justice because of an alleged insult. Before she was tried she wrote and acted "La Vengeance de Mme. Clovis Hughes."
The play depicted her sensational act and represented her as triumphantly exonerated by the court. When her trial came the court did as predicted.

Gloves.

The origin of gloves is very ancient.
Some authorities assert that they were known in Bible times, from references made to "sboes" which were thought to be identical with gloves. The first clear account of gloves comes, however, from Xenophon. This writer speaks of the Persians wearing gloves on their hands to protect them from the cold. Homer describes Laertes working in his garden with gloves upon his hands to protect them from the thorns, and Varro mentions this apparel as being worn by the Romans.
Gloves have been tokens of solemn and important things from the ninth century. They were adopted as a rite of the church, and later the transferring of hands or titles was always attended with the presentation of gloves. In the eleventh century the method of challenging to single combat by throwing down a glove was instituted, and this custom still remains in some countries.

Pierpont Morgan's Fairy Palace.

Pierpont Morgan's wonderful house in Prince's Gate differed little on the outside from its neighbors, merely two houses rolled into one, but its interior suggested nothing so much as the fairy palace of Aladdin. In the hall a spring was pressed and part of one of the walls "fell away" in the approved style. You walked down into a basement, which at first sight resembled nothing so much as one of the lower decks on a large liner. Ranged along the walls were what appeared to be a number of safes, but they were really doors opening into small rooms. Into each of which a particular portion of Mr. Morgan's collection had been brought. There were rooms for English silver, for porcelain and for half a dozen other objects d'art. No one who was ever fortunate enough to be shown round by Mr. Morgan himself can forget the experience.—London Bystander

Mercury Poisoning.

"I would suggest," says a doctor,
"that, whenever persons are found to have swallowed bichloride of mercury, several eggs be forced down their throats. The albumen in the eggs will form a chemical compound with the mercury, which will be insoluble. Then the poison will pass out through the intestines or be vomited by the victim. It is always a good thing to pump out the stomach first or to induce vomiting. Many times it is necessary to act quickly if the life of the person is to be saved, and it takes time for a physician to arrive on the scene. Bichloride of mercury will not produce a painless death. It is a poison that paralyzes the liver. It enters through the walls of the stomach, and the victim generally dies in great agony."—Des Moines Register and Leader.

Witch Burning.

There are countries in which the execution of women as witches is only a thing of yesterday. The last instance of witch burning occurred as recently as 1888 in Peru, and in other parts of South America cases continued to occur until well into the second half of the nineteenth century. England's own last conviction for witchcraft took place at Hertford in 1712, and Scotland condemned a witch ten years later, while Spain and Germany retained a judicial belief in witches and the justice of killing them until 1782 and 1796.

Silence Preferred.

J. M. Barrie, the novelist, has said that one of the "most enjoyable social functions" he ever attended was a dinner at which he turned to his neighbor and asked, "Do you converse?" "No; I don't," replied his neighbor. "Nor do I," said Mr. Barrie, and they did not.—

News to Him.

"Why is it that they never place the pictures of living men on banknotes?"
asked the fellow who had become rich by writing the words of "popular" songs.

"Don't they?" the poet replied.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Taking No Chances.

"A man never loses anything by po-tiness," said the Old Fogey.
"I know a lot of men who never intend to," added the Grinch.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

A Reversal Of Position

By LOUISE B. CUMMINGS

There may be many ways by which a girl with a fortune may propose to the man she wants for a husband, he being poor and not in a position to propose to her. The American method of marriage is that the husband supports the wife. But few such expedients have been published. This is probably because the matter is a delicate one, concerning only the contracting parties.

George Parkinson was looking for some signal from Letitia Scarborough.
He was a sensitive fellow and would make no advances himself whatever.
Miss Scarborough had a number of suitors, who, whether or no they possessed the wherewithal to warrant their asking her to marry them, were not backward in indicating their intention. George seldom went to see her without stumbling on a fresh arrival of flowers sent by some fellow as a preliminary to an offer of his hand. They made him bite his lip, for he very much wanted the young lady for himself, but was too proud even to indicate the fact in any formal or informal way. He held that if a woman with a fortune wanted a man without one for a husband she will and a way to let him know that a proposal from him will be accepted.

He had been on friendly terms with her—to apply no stronger word—for some months without her giving him the signal. During this time other stars had appeared in the matrimonial heavens, but had disappeared like those comets which, having once circled about the sun, go forth never to return. Out of the withered flowers they left George gathered hope. In one way at least his position was preferable to theirs—they had placed a girl between themselves and the lady by proposing to her. George had none nothing of the kind. So long as he was not a rejected suitor he was free to continue his attentions ad libitum.

He noticed that they all went through much the same course. A man would meet Miss Scarborough at some function; would ask permission to call; would do so several times.
Then an invitation to theater, concert or opera would follow; more calls; flowers. Then the scene would suddenly darken like a moving picture screen when the films have run out.
The lady would remain; the man would take himself out of her world altogether.

George did not accuse Miss Scarborough of encouraging these men. He knew that she wished simply to be friendly with them, to avail herself of their attentions, for which, by the bye, she always gave some kind of return, and when she saw the usual signs of a coming declaration she strove to prevent it. What reason had he to suppose, if he could bring himself, as he expressed it, to ask her to share her fortune with him, that he too, would not cease to revolve about the central sun and go out into space?

It is a common thing for women to bring men to a declaration by some artifice, but there are few cases of a man scheming for a proposition from a woman. Indeed, such a condition is an anomaly. George determined to do that very thing. He did not put at something she had said to him; he did not look languishingly at her nor drop his eyes before her gaze. He told her that he was going to a far country to take up a new abode, never to return.

This was worse—far worse—than the subterfuges women resort to, because they usually mix up a quantum of truth in their statements, and in any event custom excuses them for saying one thing and meaning another. But George deliberately lied.

He was somewhat encouraged when he made the announcement of his intended departure to her to see her winced. But he remembered that no one likes to give up a friend, and such disinclination is no proof that a woman will marry a man to keep him from going to a foreign country. She asked the date of his departure, and George, who was a trifle impatient, said that it was fixed for one week from that day.

"You will surely come to see me before you go?" she asked.

"Certainly. But I shall be very busy for a few days before I depart. I will call to say farewell next Wednesday afternoon."

On the appointed day he called and was ushered into the library, where he found the lady sitting at a desk writing a letter. On his entrance she left the desk to welcome him. After chatting with him for awhile she left the room, saying she had a "little parting gift for him which she would bring back with her. George, after her withdrawal, went to the desk for a pencil in order to write an address. Catching a glimpse of his name, he seemed unable to prevent a rapid glance at the note. It was to the writer's most intimate friend, saying:

Today is my parting with George Parkinson. Would that I were the man and he the woman that I might propose to him!

There wasn't much of it, but there was nothing indefinite in it. George would not have been accepted a declaration of love without a proposal of marriage. Such would be an insult from a man to a woman, and why not from a woman—with a fortune—to a poor-man?

When the young lady returned told her that he was broken leaving her and ty him be wou'

my friends."—Mrs. VERA WILKES, R. F. D. No. 1, Plattsburg, Miss.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

first experience with Doan's Kidney Pills took place while we were living in Beaver Falls. One of our family was, at that time, suffering from dull pains in the small of the back and other symptoms of kidney trouble.
Doan's Kidney Pills were of great benefit and there were no return attacks of the trouble for a long time.
About a month ago Doan's Kidney

STOCK SHOW AT FAIR TO BE LEADER

With over 1,100 head of prize winners from many sections already entered and a certainty that several hundred more entries will be received before the first of the week, it was made apparent Friday night that the Washington fair next week will constitute one of the greatest livestock show ever held in the United States east of Chicago. Such an assertion was made by Secretary A. J. Hinrichs and he said that from the number and character of the entries he had no hesitancy in making such a sweeping statement.

Every class is filled to overflowing and telegraphic reports or more blue ribbon winner entrants from other fairs are being received hourly. All accommodations will be taxed to house the show herds which will constitute the greatest galaxy of well bred domestic animals ever gathered at a local county fair.

Last night 447 prize sheep had been entered with indications that close to 200 more would be received before Monday. Exactly 200 cattle had been entered while word had been received from several stockmen that they would be represented later. The number of hogs so far entered is 412 with every indication that this list will be increased to considerably over 500.

WILL INQUIRE INTO GREENE COUNTY AFFAIR

District Attorney David R. Huss of Greene county will next week place bills of indictment before the grand jury against County Commissioners T. J. Ross and Lisbon Scott and former County Commissioner Jesse McNeely of Greene county. This action is in line with the recommendation of the grand jury at the last term of court following the investigation concerning alleged orgies in the basement of the Greene county court house.

In these investigations it was found by the grand jury that Jesse McNeely had been guilty of a serious crime and the other commissioners guilty of aiding and abetting in that crime. The grand jury at that time recommended that the three county commissioners resign within the next 30 days and if they failed to do so recommended that the court instruct the district attorney to prepare bills of indictment and present them to the next grand jury.

Jesse McNeely resigned but Ross and Scott refused on the grounds that they were innocent of the offense charged and declared they would stand trial. Although McNeely has resigned bills of indictment it is understood, will be presented to the grand jury charging him with the crime. It is claimed by some that this is necessary in order that it can be proven that a crime has been committed and that there must be proof of a crime before any action can be taken against Ross and Scott for aiding and abetting in the crime.

They are indictments already against Abram Roate and his wife. Mrs. Mary Roate, on the information docket to be placed before the grand jury. A few weeks ago Mary Roate appeared before the court and entered a plea of nolo contendere to the charge and is now in the Greene county jail serving a six months' sentence. Although others figured in the case at the last term of court it is understood no action will be taken against them.

DIES FROM ILLNESS OF SCARCELY A WEEK

From pleuro-pneumonia from which he had suffered hardly a week Porter Baldwin, aged about 32 died this morning at his home on Fallowfield avenue near Second street. Mr. Baldwin took ill last Sunday morning, and immediately became critical. The body was taken to Belle Vernon this morning for the funeral. Mr. Baldwin is survived by his widow and one child. He had lived here but a short time.

"No honest man," argues a writer who is probably worth 30 cents cash and more than that in debts, "can accumulate a million dollars without constant industry, self-denial, perseverance and ability." And another writer had previously said: "Hope springs eternal within the human breast."

CATASTROPHE OCCURS TODAY AT CORAOPOLIS; WELL KNOWN MEN NUMBERED AMONG THE VICTIMS

Capt. Harry Donaldson, of Rices Landing, Capt. Thomas Flaherty, of Pittsburg and Robert Davis Formerly of Charleroi Among the Lost --Five are Saved From Wreckage.

Eight lives are said to have been lost this morning between 6 and 7 o'clock when the tugboat Alice of the Rodgers Sand company blew up along the Ohio river near Coraopolis. Five of the crew were saved and were hurried to a Pittsburg hospital. This afternoon divers will engage on the work of locating the bodies. Among the known dead are:

Capt. Harry Donaldson, of Rices Landing. Has relatives living in Charleroi.

Capt. Thomas Flaherty, of Pittsburg.

Robert Davis, of Pittsburg, formerly of Charleroi, and a brother of William Davis of Charleroi and Mack Davis, of North Charleroi.

Causes of the explosion are not given. Word was received this morning at Lock No. 4 by Lockmaster George W. Paxton from the Rodgers Sand company telling the known details of the accident. The explosion came suddenly so that the crew had no chance of escape. Those who were sent to the hospital managed to get off in time to escape immediate death, but practically all of

The remnants of the splintered Alice sank shortly after the explosion occurred. Now the river is as calm and as peaceful looking as though no grim tragedy had ever occurred at the point. It is told that when the explosion came the boat spread apart from the tremendous force and then plunk by plank and timber by timber and splinter by splinter either sank or floated away. Somewhere concealed in the wreckage of the hull at the bottom of the river it is believed the bodies of the eight men will be found, and their names learned.

The Alice operated along the Monongahela and Ohio rivers. About a week ago it was up the Monongahela river and passed through Lock No. 4. It has long been in the trade, but it is not known that it had defective boilers. The point where this morning's explosion occurred was a comparatively short distance from the point where two years or so ago an explosion occurred on the tugboat Diamond, in which a few lost their lives.

NUMBER OF BALLOTS WILL BE CUT DOWN

In making computations previous to the letting of the contract for printing the ballots of Washington county for the primaries of September 16 the county commissioners Friday ascertained that 16,213 less tickets than they had advertised for would be necessary. This was learned through figures supplied by registry assessors in the county. Enrollment and registration surprises have resulted from the enforcement of the extent possible of the enrollment law.

The contract for printing the ballots was awarded to the Times Publishing company of Monongahela, which prints the Monongahela Times and the Bentleyville Times. Their bid was $592.17. There were two other bidders, H. F. Ward of Washington, whose bid was $635.57, and the Roscoe Ledger of Roscoe, with a bid of $947.71.

Several days ago the county commissioners sent out requests to the registry assessors to get in figures of the registration as much as possible by the middle part of this week. Practically every registry assessor responded, with the result that the commissioners were enabled to form some idea of the number of ballots needed through another method than that. Tickets are to be printed as follows:

Republican, 9,394 official and 2,598 specimen.

Democratic, 8,000 official and 2,400 specimen.

Washington, 5,000 official and 1,500 specimen.

Prohibition, 674 official and 200 specimen.

Socialist, 2,500 official and 875 specimen.

There will be 46,068 official non-partisan ballots and 11,762 specimen. This matter of non-partisan ballots was made necessary by reason of the fact that every voter will get such a ballot in order to instruct for nominees for superior court judge. The law requires 1 1-2 times as many non-partisan ballots as there are all others.

According to the figures of the general election last fall, it would have been necessary to print 11,000 or more Washington party ballots. But the enrollment of parties over the county proves that this number of ballots will be nearly double the number needed. It is stated there have been heavy increases in the Republican ranks in the county and similarly light registration of Washington party men, which goes to indicate that the enrollment law has either been very generally misunderstood or not exactly lived up to.

There will be no ballots printed on the Bull Moose and the Roosevelt Progressive tickets and this will effect a saving in work for the printers. The ballots must be delivered at noon September 11 to the county commissioners at Washington.

BRIGADE MEMBERS RETURN

Washington Avenue Youthful Soldiers Back From Camp

CAMPED TWO WEEKS

Bronzed from their out-of-door experiences the members of the Washington Avenue Boys' Brigade under Capt. Charles Wallgren returned Friday night from a pleasant two weeks' outing at Conneaut Lake. At Conneaut the brigade was located in an excellent camp, and governed by rigid military discipline learned anew the rudiments of soldiering. Last year they camped at Conneaut for the first time.

Each day's program was much the same, consisting largely of numerous drills and maneuvers. There was plenty of spare time however for swimming and boating and these sports were enjoyed by the members of the brigade to the utmost. There were about 40 in camp all told.

"LEST WE FORGET"

Very early in the history of Charleroi the Hussey Binns Shovel Co. erected a model shovel factory along the town's river front between 3d and 5th Sts.

Employing practically all skilled workmen, this industry at once took rank as one of the leading industries of Charleroi. Among the many good workmen who came with the Hussey Binns Co. was one who had been in their employ for twenty three years, and had by careful attention to his work, together with unusual intelligent methods in performing his duties, became one of their most trusted employees.

This workman at once purchased a lot on Prospect avenue, and on it he

Final Preparations Are Made for Gathering of Teachers

WILL REGISTER MONDAY

Teachers to Report to Superintendents in Towns Where They Teach

Final preparations have been made for the Tri-District Teachers' Institute that will be held next week at the Methodist Episcopal church on Sixth street, Charleroi. The opening session will take place at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. During this afternoon Dr. F. C. Stahlman, of the board of directors of Charleroi will make the address of welcome and Prof. Edgar Reed, superintendent of the Donora schools will make the response. Dr. H. C. Curtis, of Oliver, Mich., former secretary of the playgrounds association of America and the Child welfare conference and supervisor of the Washington, D. C. playgrounds will speak on "The School as a Social Center." Also on Monday afternoon Miss Alice M. Carmalt of the University will speak.

Officers of the institute association are: Prof. Thomas L. Pollock, of Charleroi, president; Prof. R. G. Dean, of Monongahela, secretary and Prof. Edgar Reed, of Donora, treasurer.

Teachers are to register at their respective towns at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Charleroi teachers will report to the Ninth street building, and arrangements have been made by the Monongahela and Donora authorities to have their teachers report at special buildings. Miss Romaia Anderson, secretary for Prof. Pollock will have charge of the local registration of teachers.

Every day will be a feature day at the institute. There will be morning and afternoon sessions from Monday until Friday, but there will be only one evening session, Thursday evening, when Dr. S. D. Fess of Ohio, will lecture on "The Humanity of Lincoln."

The finest kind of instructors have been secured for the institute. These instructors are: Dr. Henry T. Colestock, of the department of history of the Bucknell University; Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the Pennsylvania State board of education; Dr. Henry S. Curtis, playgrounds expert, of Michigan; Hon. S. D. Fess, member of the house of representatives from the sixth district of Ohio; Miss Ada Van Stone Harris, of Pittsburg; Miss Mary G. Noss, vice principal of the State Normal school at California, and Mrs. Alice M. Carmalt, of the University of Pittsburgh.

Prof. I. T. Daniel, supervisor of music in the Charleroi schools will be the musical director for the institute. Miss May Barth will be the pianist. Vocal soloists will be Prof. C. A. Dobson, of the department of music of the California Normal; Miss Ethel Hawthorne of California, and Miss Ethel Barth, of Charleroi. Instrumental soloist will be Miss Norma Bosson, violinist.

TEACHERS ARE INSTRUCTED IN READING SYSTEM

This morning Miss Kestier, of the Calhoun schools, of Philadelphia was at Charleroi and gave a special brief course in primary reading to about 25 of the Charleroi school teachers. This year a new system of reading is to be put into effect in the schools, and the instruction by Miss Kestier was to give the teachers pointers on the work.

P. R. R. TRYING WIRELESS SYSTEM

The Pennsylvania has been conducting experiments with a wireless telephone system to be used on trains. The first tests have already been made on the Huntingdon and Broad-top line and the freight and coal cars of this system are being equipped with the new wireless system.

It is said the new device will be a great aid in the prevention of accidents. The communication is between engineer and conductor. Although the apparatus is practically wireless a metallic circuit is used, the track and car couplers making the circuit.

Closed All Day
Eugene Pan's store will be closed all day Monday, Labor Day.

JOHN H MAURER AND T. L. LEWIS AT ELDORA PARK

Tom Lewis, ex-president of the United Mine Workers of America and John Hudson Maurer, president of the state federation of labor are today the chief speakers at a gathering of miners and Socialists at Eldora park. There are between 2,000 and 5,000 people at the park this afternoon.

The members of the sewer and highways committee, of New Eagle borough, received a letter Friday morning from the state highway commissioners stating that their chief engineer S. D. Foster would meet with them Saturday morning, August 30, at 2117 Farmers National Bank Building, Pittsburg. An attempt will be made to have the members of the Automobile club and a number of business men of Monongahela to meet with Mr. Foster and discuss the improvement of the road near the River-view power house.

The Republican voters of Mt. Pleasant township will face a perplexing situation when they go to the polls Tuesday, September 16. Not a single name of a candidate will appear on the ballot for any of the township offices. It will be necessary for the voters to write in the names of the persons for whom they desire to vote.

Tuesday, the last day for filing petitions a bundle of about 45 was received from Mt. Pleasant township, but in looking them over the commissioners discovered that not a single petition was regular and all had to be thrown out. It appears that a suggestion meeting was held to suggest names for the various offices of the township.

Names were suggested and petitions were fixed out but not an affidavit was made to any of the petitions while they were found to be irregular in other ways. The 45 petitions were returned to the man who sent them in and as a result the Republican voters will have to write in the names of the persons they desire for the various offices.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD OUTING AT KENNYWOOD

Between 500 and 600 people attended the sixth annual outing of Monongahela Valley Odd Fellows held at Kennywood park Friday. The attendance was from all along the valley between Roscoe and Elizabethtown.

A special train arranged by the Monongahela I. O. O. F. Picnic Association, carried the crowd to the park, reaching there at about 9:30. During the entire day after that the park amusements were called into requisition and the visitors enjoyed themselves to the limit. In the afternoon a number of athletic events were contested and prizes awarded to the winners of the various events.

The officers at the head of the committee on arrangements were William H. Isaac, president; Joseph Robinson, vice president; and Robert Craig, the latter, of Charleroi, secretary-treasurer.

WOES THAT KILL
Another resident of this state has committed suicide because his son murdered his wife and was hanged relates the Beaver Daily Times.
Seems reason enough for suicide, doesn't it—if there is any such thing as reason for suicide?

No more cruel and crushing calamity can come to any man than his son turning out to be a murderer and being hanged.

There is deepest shame in it as well as the keenest sorrow the heart can know. It is the most irremediable of all woes.—One may live to make amends for his own crimes or sins, but none—not even a broken-hearted father—can ever make amends for a murderer that has been hanged.

But the peculiar thing about this, as a cause of suicide, is its great rarity. Murders are common, far too common. Heart-searing suffering because of them is common. Yet there can be recalled very few instances of victims of this greatest of human calamities resorting to suicide.

Indeed, it is seldom we hear of victims of any really great calamities seeking relief in suicide. It is strange how, under the really great sorrows, we bear up. Strange how these actually give us new strength, not only to bear, but to overcome.

It is the little worries, the petty woes, that break us down.

We hear of suicide every day, every hour almost, because of temporary financial trouble, or lovers' quarrels, or trivial disappointment, or little ailments. But of self-destruction, or the breaking of the spirit, in the face of really great calamities there are very few instances either in the daily news or in history.

Men and women innumerable have borne the greatest of affliction not only with serenity, but with increased strength and sweetness.

It is of the hopelessly crippled that look for patience.

The human spirit, like steel, will bear enormous pressure and strain, but it may soon be weakened and broken by the rust of little worries.

DISSENTING AND DIVORCE
The dissenting and divorce

other articles of common household use at the supposedly innocent head of her long-suffering spouse seems to have been little more than pastime to a certain Washington county woman, if the affidavit of the much pained husband is to be believed. Also if the same source of information is to be considered authoritative, this female of the species was not averse to the intemperate use of strong apple jack. On such occasions she endeavored to mutilate his countenance and infringe upon his personal liberty. But the worm has turned. Now the male has sued for divorce alleging cruel and barbarous treatment. He interposes objections to the dissolving proceedings, quite naturally enough, it is argued. His wife's answer to the numerous specific charges is awaited with eager interest. One is tempted to wonder if she will accuse him of twisting her ears or of pinching her nose or of borrowing beads from the Jew in the guest chamber with which to harass her.

It must be a case of incompatibility of temperament. In such cases the actual value—if it can be spoken of in such terms—of the divorce court is not live together any more peacefully than these two seem to have been living together—not just as well that they be separated through due process of law.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Two boys who managed to be rather unruly in school so exasperated their teacher that she requested them to leave after hours and write their names 1,000 times. They plunged into the task.

Some fifteen minutes later one of them grew uneasy and began watching his companion in disgrace. Suddenly he felt one of his own arms being seized by the other and then the teacher.

"Taint fair, mum. His name's Bush and mine's Schlattermeyer."

A little girl from that pretty quarter of Liverpool verging on Bootle was invited to a garden party given by a very aristocratic lady to a group of little slum children at Calderstone's park, according to an exchange.

The little girl, as she drank her tea, and ate her plum cake on a velvet lawn under a white blooming cherry tree, said to her hostess:

"Does your husband drink?"

"Why—er—no, not to excess" was the astonished reply.

"How much does he make?"

"He doesn't work," said the lady. "He is a capitalist."

"You keep out of debt I hope?"

"Of course, child, what on earth—"

"Your color looks natural. I trust you don't paint?"

"Look here," exclaimed the hostess, "what do you mean by all those impudent questions?"

"Impudent?" said the little girl. "Why, ma'am, my mother told me to be sure and behave like a lady, and when ladies call at our rooms, they always question mother like that."

erected a home for himself and estimable family. Thus in 1891 Robert Whitehead one of our best citizens, became a resident of Charleroi.

His good judgment, and superior executive ability, was immediately recognized by the citizens of the town, and in 1893 he was elected to be a member of the board of School Directors, for a three year term.

During those early days when the town was in process of formation, hard, confusing, and delicate work was required of the borough officials. Robert Whitehead's ability and willingness, as a good citizen, to perform those trying duties was needed at that time, and so faithfully did he acquit himself of the task, that at the expiration of his term of office, the people insisted that he be elected for another term.

Mr. Whitehead felt that he had done his part, and objected to serving any longer, but the people insisted strongly on his service, so he was again elected for a (3) year term, which he filled with honor and credit to himself and to the town. During these (6) years that Robert Whitehead served the town so faithfully, as school director, the foundations were laid for our splendid schools, and today we are enjoying the benefits of that early work, so well done.

Again the demand of the people came for him to serve another term. This time he refused absolutely to be a candidate, for he felt that his personal affairs, his home, and his family, required more of his time. One year later the call came again, and this time no refusal would be accepted, so again he became a Republican Candidate. The Democrats endorsed his nomination and at the general election he received all the votes cast but three. This practically unanimous election of a man, who had served six years as a borough officer, shows conclusively the caliber of the man. Nothing but unexceptional ability, with a character absolutely beyond reproach, could produce such a remarkable result. For three years more Robert Whitehead served his town, faithfully, honestly, and efficiently and was again reelected for three years more, making in all (12) years of service, the only reward of which was the knowledge of a public duty well fulfilled.

In 1909 he was elected from a large field of aspirants to be the Republican candidate for Burgess and was defeated at general election. This year he is a candidate for Burgess and his many friends, remembering his record of thirty-seven years as trusted employee of the Hussey Brans Co., his twelve years of service to this borough without remuneration, his splendid ability, energy, and high sense of duty, feel that the voters of Charleroi will emphatically say, that having proven his worth, Robert Whitehead will be our Burgess.

SUPT. CRUMRINE
WILL ATTEND NEW SCHOOL OPENING

County Superintendent of Schools L. R. Crumrine will go to California Monday morning to participate in the exercises marking the dedication of the new school building at that place.

On Tuesday Mr. Crumrine will begin visiting schools in Washington county, a work which will be kept up continually until the time arrives for arranging for the teachers' institute, in December. Mr. Crumrine reports that several secretaries of school boards of Washington county have failed to send in their annual financial reports, which should have been filed several days ago.

He makes a special request that high school students send in immediately the manuscripts of pupils of the eighth grades who are taking the examination today for entrance into the high schools at the various points in the county.

Mr. Crumrine has completed the work of looking over manuscript submitted by teachers of Washington county who took the examination at Grove City recently by professional certification. The work, he says, was promptly completed and the certificates have

FOR BURGESS

To the Voters of Charleroi:

At the primary election on Tuesday, September 16, 1913, I will be a candidate for Burgess on the Democratic ticket. I have been a taxpayer in Charleroi and North Charleroi boroughs for fifteen years, and a consistent voter of the Democratic political faith. In casting your vote at the coming primary election, kindly give me a little consideration with the rest of the candidates.

Respectfully,
S. L. Woodward

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

To the Voters of Charleroi:

At the primary election to take place on Tuesday, September 16, I will be a candidate on the Washington Party Ticket for the office of Tax Collector. As accountant I have had 10 years experience, and as auditor of borough finances for two years, I have become familiar with the work of tax collecting. I am a property holder and tax payer and alive to the interests of the borough. In casting your vote at the primary election, I ask your kindly consideration.

WAYNESBURG FIRE
DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Fire early Friday destroyed the residence occupied by George Baker on North Richhill street, at Waynesburg. On account of nearly every one being at the fair grounds it was some time before the fire arrived on the scene and then it was too late to be of any service. The building a frame one, was owned by Mrs. Ida Rinehart, whose loss will be $3,500. Baker lost everything he had and the loss will fall quite heavily upon him.

STOCK SHOW AT FAIR TO BE LEADER

With over 1,100 head of prize winners from many sections already entered and a certainty that several hundred more entries will be received before the first of the week, it was made apparent Friday night that the Washington fair next week will constitute one of the greatest livestock show ever held in the United States east of Chicago. Such an assertion was made by Secretary A. J. Hinrichs and he said that from the number and character of the entries he had no hesitancy in making such a sweeping statement.

Every class is filled to overflowing and telegraphic reports or more blue ribbon winners entrants from other fairs are being received hourly. All accommodations will be taxed to house the show herds which will constitute the greatest gathering of bred domestic animals ever gathered at a local county fair.

Last night 447 prize sheep had been entered with indications that close to 200 more would be received before Monday. Exactly 200 cattle had been entered while word had been received from several stockmen that they would be represented later. The number of hogs so far entered is 412 with every indication that this list will be increased to considerably over 500.

WILL INQUIRE INTO GREENE COUNTY AFFAIR

District Attorney David R. Huss of Greene county will next week place bills of indictment before the grand jury against County Commissioners T. J. Ross and Lisbon Scott and former County Commissioner Jesse McNeely of Greene county. This action is in line with the recommendation of the grand jury at the last term of court following the investigation concerning alleged orgies in the basement of the Greene county court house.

In these investigations it was found that the grand jury that Jesse McNeely had been guilty of a serious crime and the other commissioners guilty of aiding and abetting in that crime. The grand jury at that time recommended that the three county commissioners resign within the next 30 days and if they failed to do so recommended that the court instruct the district attorney to prepare bills of indictment and present them to the next grand jury.

Jesse McNeely resigned but Ross and Scott refused on the grounds that they were innocent of the offense charged and declared they would stand trial. Although McNeely has resigned bills of indictment, it is understood, will be presented to the grand jury charging him with the crime. It is claimed by some that this is necessary in order that it can be proven that a crime has been committed and that there must be proof of a crime before any action can be taken against Ross and Scott for aiding and abetting in the crime.

They are indictments already against Abram Roate and his wife, Mrs. Mary Roate, on the information docket to be placed before the grand jury. A few weeks ago Mary Roate appeared before the court and entered a plea of nolo contendere to the charge and is now in the Greene county jail serving a six months' sentence. Although others figured in the case at the last term of court it is understood no action will be taken against them.

DIES FROM ILLNESS OF SCARCELY A WEEK

From pleuro-pneumonia from which he had suffered hardly a week Porter Baldwin, aged about 32 died this morning at his home on Fallowfield avenue near Second street. Mr. Baldwin took ill last Sunday morning, and immediately became critical. The body was taken to Belle Vernon this morning for the funeral. Mr. Baldwin is survived by his widow and one child. He had lived here but a short time.
